North Central Texas Winds

Devoted to performing wind literature with musical integrity and artistic intent, this "hybrid" ensemble serves the students of North Central Texas College and the musicians who live in the NCTC service area. Established in 2022 as a course offering in NCTC's Visual &

Performing Arts and Adult &

Continuing Education Division, the ensemble gives NCTC students an opportunity to perform sophisticated music alongside accomplished adult musicians, many of whom have graduate degrees in music performance and music education. The ensemble rehearses on Monday evenings on the Calhoun Middle School campus in Downtown Denton.

Music Director

Dr. Thomas Singletary is an active conductor, composer, clinician, and music educator. As a music arranger and transcriber for winds, he is highly regarded for his custom arrangements for high school and collegiate marching bands around the nation. A Georgia native, Singletary holds degrees in Music Education from Florida State University and the University of Illinois at Champaign/Urbana. Dr. Singletary currently serves as Chair of the Visual & Performing Arts Department at North Central Texas College.

Prior to his doctoral studies, Singletary taught music at Eau Gallie High School in Melbourne, Florida for seventeen years, where he led a team of teachers committed to musical excellence through concert band, marching band, jazz ensemble, and chamber music. Under his direction, the Eau Gallie Band gave highly acclaimed performances at many district, state and national festivals. In recognition of his achievements, Dr. Singletary received the Oliver Hobbs Award from the Florida Bandmasters Association and the Citation of Excellence from the National Band Association. His principal teachers include James Croft, Robert Sheldon, Clifford Madsen, Donald Schleicher, and Patrick Dunnigan.

MUSIC at North Central Texas College

The NCTC Music Department is an excellent place for students to prepare for enrolling in a school of music at a four-year college or university. Our department features multiple choral and instrumental ensembles that perform concerts in the fall and spring semesters. Music Majors at NCTC take courses in music theory, ear training, music literature, and private instruction help our students become successful and confident musicians who are ready to audition into music programs at large, comprehensive four-year schools. In the past five years, NCTC music students have been accepted in the music programs at Texas Tech University, the University of North Texas, Texas Woman's University, Sam Houston State University, Texas A&M Commerce, and Stephen F. Austin State University.

Music classes meet on two of our six campuses, in Gainesville and Denton. The hub of the NCTC Music Department is the First State Bank Performing Arts Center on our Gainesville Campus, featuring a 350-seat theatre, practice rooms, a music learning lab, rehearsal halls, and studio/office space for our faculty.

Thank you to the band directors at Calhoun Middle School and Ryan High School for hosting our rehearsals and concerts!
